We hope you’ve enjoyed our Daily Lifts and connection opportunities! You can Lean On Beth El! We Belong Together.

Our Early Childhood Center teachers have been working hard during quarantine to teach and engage our youngest learners! In addition to virtual classes, celebrations, cooking demonstrations, and stories, several teachers have made visits to sing and bring presents to their students.

Dearest Beth El Family,

During these challenging times, as science and medicine tenaciously search for a cure, we pray for their speedy success. But in the spiritual world in which we, your Clergy, live, the focus is not so much on how to be cured as how to live. We personally cannot cure COVID, but we have been trying our best to cure the disease of loneliness through strengthening your sense of community. We pray that those whose lives have been touched by illness find comfort in the feeling of belonging that our congregation hopes to impart. While physical, tactile connections may have become virtual, there is nothing “virtual” about the way we three feel about all of you. We care deeply for each and every one of our members and their families. We are here for you. And, at the same time, we feel most grateful for the care, support and encouragement that you have sent our way, too. We really are a family, and we will indeed get through this together. May the warmth in our hearts be felt deeply in all of yours.

With Best Wishes for Health and Happiness,

Rabbi Krupnick, Hazzan Pomerantz-Boro, and Rabbi Green

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Karen H. Schlessel
President

I am blown away, but I am not surprised. Within hours of the decision to physically close our building, just before the start of Shabbat on March 13, we transformed. We opened other doors - virtual and real. Beth El Helping Hands sprung up within hours. Our clergy, staff, teachers, Board of Trustees, members and volunteers not just adapted, but flourished online and from a safe distance in person. Our presence is felt. The fact is, as our saying goes, We Belong Together. That manifests itself every day at Beth El, because Beth El transcends the place. I am grateful for the way all of us have demonstrated how we stick together. We show up for one another and our community.

Things have certainly changed. Everyday tasks, such as grocery shopping and returning home from work, have become carefully planned endeavors. On the flip side, many of us have had the luxury of pausing for a few breaths and taking time for introspection. While we stay at home, we are simultaneously connecting more on a global basis.

So what now? What will we rush back to? What will we let go of? What have we learned that we want to carry forward? We may not know what will last from what we are experiencing now, but we do have the power to determine what that history will be.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Josh Laster
Executive Director

Although we are, for the most part, operating from outside of the synagogue, we continue to connect for prayer, learning, celebration, and support. We've transformed out of necessity, but many of the changes made will become our regular practice of connecting with our Beth El Family. We've also transitioned to a largely remote workforce due to restrictions of the Covid-19 guidelines. Those restrictions have caused us to make the shift to as much electronic communication as possible, and that now includes our billing and payments. In the next few days you will be receiving your membership renewal materials via email.

I'm at Beth El just about every day. Please know that the building is in great shape and being maintained by Rob Torrez, our facilities manager, and Marlon McElveen, our longtime janitorial supervisor from Mac's Janitorial Services. They've been very busy with minor repairs and maintaining our beloved Beth El so it is ready for when we all return.

We hope to see everyone in the very near future!

Our Life and Legacy Donors

GREETINGS FROM OUR EDUCATION TEAM

Rabbi Nogah Marshall
Educational Director

What a whirlwind two months it has been at Congregation Beth El! Almost overnight we went virtual with all of our educational programs. Through ECC online daily lessons and videos; Zoom Religious School, Hebrew High School, and Live and Learn classes; Facebook Live for ECC

Shabbat, Rock and Roll Shacharit, and Wednesday Tefilot; weekly Bim Bam Shabbat and Junior Congregation videos; and drive by home visits, we have continued to stay connected to our students of all ages. I am so proud of our teachers and students for working so hard to stay connected and continue their Jewish education. While we may be physically apart, we are truly connected spiritually and virtually!

Although the school year is ending, our journey is not complete. We learn at the end of the Five Books of Moses that the people of Israel have yet to reach the Promised Land. Our Jewish Journey is everlasting. The school year may be ending, but we will continue to offer a variety of programming over the summer, so check your email for exciting summer virtual programs that we will offer until we can physically be back together.

As our "academic year" comes to a close, I would like to take this opportunity to thank four members of our community who are concluding their volunteer positions. Thank you to our ECC chairs, Beth Lambert and Sara Valli, and Religious School PTG chairs, Shari Shapiro and Brandi Seltzer. These four individuals have worked tirelessly supporting our schools. We thank you for your dedication and service and look forward to your continued involvement at Beth El.

I would also like to welcome to our schools new ECC chairs, Perri Silverstein and Tracey Weiss, and BERS PTG chairs, Ilana Ablon and Lauren Passkoff. Please email me at nmarshall@bethelsnj.org if you would like to volunteer in our schools.

Finally, I would like to extend a Mazel Tov to our Gan graduates, Kindergarten graduates, Gimmel students on their upcoming Chag Hasiddur celebration, Vav graduates, Confirmation students, and graduating seniors. We look forward to celebrating with you virtually and hopefully together in person one day soon.

As we recite when we finish the reading of a book of Torah: Chazak Chazak v'nitchazel.

Together, together we will be strengthened.

Ayelet Mittelman
ECC Principal

Lately, there are days where I truly wish I had a crystal ball. I would be able to gaze into it and see the future and be able to tell everyone when we would finally see the light at the end of this pandemic tunnel...however, as silly as it may sound, I feel as though I've found the light right here at Beth El.

Shining examples of community spirit, support, love, kindness, and strength are all around us, right here in our ECC and our Shul as a whole.

I have been completely awe-struck by the way that I have seen our school come together to support not only our teachers, but also our students and families. I have watched friendships form that never would have been realized had we not been placed in this situation. Beautiful acts of kindness, selfless acts of love, and unabashedly supportive acts have been the norm over these last few months.

Watching teachers drive around to dance for their students, sing songs and read stories on daily ZOOM calls and videos, call students in the evening to wish them sweet dreams and lila tov, makes me proud of how our teachers truly treat these children as their own. And conversely, how welcomed they are as part of the family, by our incredible parents.

I've loved the parent groups that I've seen form to support not only our teachers and school, but also to support each other. There is no greater catharsis than having a legitimate "ugly cry" FaceTime with a fellow parent. Those FaceTime calls and the following WhatsApp group messages do more good for our parents than I ever thought possible. The support consistently reinforces to our parents that they are not alone, that we are all in this together, and that they are doing the very best possible job and being the best possible parent.

I've loved the way our administration has been a constant, ever solid, ever resolute in maintaining the day to day, in a positive and supportive manner, by reaching out to not only our Beth El Community, but the Jewish community as a whole. Lastly, I've loved the way our Clergy has been a daily gift to us, always there with smiles on their faces and a positive message to share; guiding our hearts with laughter, song, and thought.

I look at these few months as a glowing example of what is at the core of our community, and that is heart. I am proud to be a part of it, and so incredibly grateful for all of you.

With this incredible community, and through its strength, I look forward to the future with you. I look forward to a time when we can celebrate simchas together, big and small. I look forward to celebrating the High Holy Days with you, whether side by side or virtually. I look forward to more beautiful moments with this tremendously resilient and engaging community.

I want to leave you with this: we will get through this, we are stronger together, and thank you for being such an incredible family. Be safe, stay healthy, and stay POSITIVE!! Mazel Tov to our Kindergarten graduates!!

SOCIAL ACTION NEWS

"There is no better exercise for your heart than reaching down and helping to lift someone up."

In early March, a group of dedicated volunteers from the Social Action, Membership, and Boker Tov Committees sprung into action to form Helping Hands. Helping Hands was initially created as a way to connect with seniors who may be feeling isolated. Within days, 15 congregants had volunteered and more than 200 calls were made, connecting with homebound seniors and offering assistance. After the success of that first effort, Helping Hands was expanded with the goal of reaching all 800+ Beth El households.

The program has been an overwhelming success, with more than 600 calls made to date by over 30 volunteers. In addition to weekly check-ins, Helping Hands volunteers are delivering meals, shopping for groceries, and sharing information for how to connect to Beth El programs and services. Some would say that the most meaningful part of the program has been the relationships that have been formed between the volunteers and the congregants whom they are calling.

Laurie Grossman shared, "I really enjoyed reaching out to members of our congregation, especially to those who have been a little more isolated during this awful pandemic. At a time when it can feel like the world is breaking, the Helping Hands program shows how our community is as strong as ever, and I'm happy to be a small part of that!"

Rachel Miller added, "In a time when it's easy to feel that there is so much that we can't do, Helping Hands has given me something that I can DO. By making a few calls each week, adding a few extra items to my supermarket list, I am able to assist our members who can't leave their homes. These phone calls take a few minutes of my time and help folks have a connection to our synagogue in a time when they can't be in the building. In truth, these calls have made me feel more connected to my community- something that I am grateful for."

Helping Hands calls will continue weekly and there are plans to expand the program in the future. If you would like to volunteer as a caller, or if you need assistance, please reach out to Melissa at mleibowitz@bethelsnj.org or 856.675.1166.. Just one call can brighten someone's day!

MITZVAH MOMENTS

Charli Aumiller has been making Candy Bouquets to benefit the Lone Soldier Center in memory of Michael Levin. Making these has been a fun activity, often involving Charli's whole family. To date, Charli has raised over $2,500 and is still hoping to be able to travel to Israel for her Bat Mitzvah this December and hand deliver this donation to the Center.

Kosher Candy Bouquets are still available and able to be dropped off to a door to brighten someone's day. Email Charli for information: candybycharli@yahoo.com

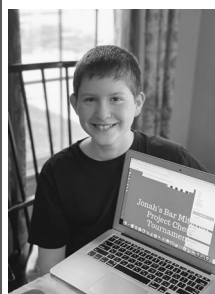

Justin Fox chose to support New Beginnings in Camden, NJ for his Mitzvah Project. They are a mobile resource center helping to restore honor and dignity to Camden's homeless population. They offer hot showers, meals and the ability to wash clothes in their two traveling motor homes. Justin collected men's clothing and toiletry items and will sort and deliver the much needed supplies as soon as possible.

Stacey and Lauren Gruber supported One Love Animal Rescue by putting together a gift basket that was raffled at a fundraising event. Stacey and Lauren collected monetary contributions at Beth El which were used to purchase items to make the basket.

Jonah Kutikov organized an online chess tournament on April 19 that raised more than $1600 for Fox Chase Cancer Center's COVID-19 Response Fund. 31 chess players rated from amateur to FIDE master participated in the tournament. The tournament was a success and resulted in a 3-way tie for first place (Jonah was happy to be one of the 3). The tournament was something fun to do with the stay-at-home order in place. The funds will go toward resources needed in the hospital to continue to provide safe cancer care in the era of COVID-19. Donations are still being accepted at: http://donate.foxchase.org/jonahs_chess_tourney

KAVOD LGBTQ INTRO

Respect. Inclusivity.
Advocacy. Friendship.
Kavod is a new organization at

Congregation Beth El that aims to address the needs of Jewish LGBTQ adults and their allies in South Jersey. Organizers Jemma Kline and Shanin Gross formed the group earlier this year, bringing together those in our community interested in advocating for LGBTQ rights as well as joining together for social events.

The group has met to discuss how our congregation can best serve the needs of queer members and their families, including updates to membership policies, signage, the building, and services. The goal is to further build on all the steps our synagogue has made to make LGBTQ people feel welcome and included. Discussions have also focused on how we can engage the wider community through attendance at Pride, coordination with other Jewish and LGBTQ organizations, and social media. We aim to engage in a wide range of advocacy issues, including transgender rights, same-sex adoption, and blood donation.

During quarantine, Kavod has held bi-weekly meetings, Zoom Movie Nights featuring LGBTQ-relevant entertainment, Game Night, and a Shavuot discussion. We hope you'll join us at our future gatherings to learn more about how you can be a part of making Beth El a place where queer Jews of all orientations and genders feel they have a home.

Contact Jemma at jforrestkline@gmail.com to connect.
