PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Allen Wilen

Shalom!

I am Allen Wilen, the new President of Congregation Beth El. In my first article as President, I thought I would tell you a little about myself. I am an Accountant who specializes in working with financially distressed businesses. Many of you may know my wife, Barbra, who heads the House Committee at Beth El and was responsible for the Transition Committee that moved us to our new home here in Voorhees. In addition, Barbra and I have three wonderful children, Rebecca, Sarah and Jared.

During the coming year I expect to have some exciting announcements about changes that are coming to our Early Childhood Center, appoint a committee to oversee and revitalize our Hebrew High program and many other exciting initiatives in the area of Adult Jewish Education. We are also currently working on a solar energy project to both reduce our operating costs and do our part in employing “green” technologies.

Max Depree wrote in the Art of Leadership that “the first responsibility of a leader is to define reality”. In my personal and professional life, I call things as they are. Our synagogue is not immune from the current economic issues. We have a larger number of families in need of financial assistance this year due to the current economic situation, we have families waiting longer to join a shul and we have costs that are continually rising. In spite of all of these issues, we have been able to continue to maintain and grow our membership. Additionally, we have been focused on controlling costs and making sure we can continue to deliver the quality synagogue experience we have all enjoyed here at Beth El. As a result, this year the increase in dues was one of the smallest in over a decade.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to email me at allen.wilen@eisneramper.com and I will read and try to provide timely feedback. I am looking forward to the year ahead.

On a final note, I wanted to wish Rabbi Arnowitz, Tami and the boys lots of nachas and joy in their new home in Norfolk....it’s only fitting that the Arnowitz family should call another “BETH EL” home.

Thank you and see in shul!

CHECK YOUR MAILBOX FOR THE HIGH HOLIDAY SHALEM INFORMATION PACKET TO ARRIVE IN MID AUGUST.
The Meaning of the Fourth of July

I have to hear the fireworks. Just seeing them isn’t enough for me. There’s something about that boom, those pop-pop-pop-pops and the sparkles and colors of fireworks on a warm night against a dark sky that screams July 4th.

But, I’m a bit embarrassed to say that the only way I observe July 4th is by seeing fireworks (although I’m not even all that careful to make sure I even see fireworks!) and enjoying the long weekend. I suspect this is true for many Americans.

Of course, July 4th is not like Pesach or even Yom HaAtzmaut (Israeli Independence Day). July 4th is an American, secular, national holiday, that has become separated from its historical meaning. Pesach, the “feast of freedom,” is a religious holiday with God prominently featured. Even Yom HaAtzmaut has religious aspects—we add a special paragraph to our prayers, and say Hallel, the set of psalms we sing on holidays as part of the morning service.

However, the Fourth of July is a quintessentially American holiday which marks the vote in the Second Continental Congress passing the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776 in Philadelphia. The first July 4th celebration was in 1820; it became a federal (unpaid) holiday in 1870 and a paid federal holiday in 1938. For many of us, Memorial Day, the Fourth of July, Labor Day, Veterans’ Day and Presidents’ Day are basically the same - holiday Mondays or Fridays that give us a long weekend that may involve a barbecue.

But I think these American holidays can be so much more. Rituals have the power to make moments and memories sacred, to create holy time and to sanctify our lives through living sacramally. We know the power of weekly rituals, like lighting Shabbat candles, or making havdalah. We look forward to Hanukkah and Pesach, Purim and Yom Kippur, because we love their traditions and rituals - the food, the melodies, the people, the pageantry, the connection, the opportunity, the symbolism, the sacredness.

It’s “easy” to make a Jewish holiday holy - all we have to do is keep a few of the traditions and suddenly we’ve lit Hanukkah candles, or been to a Seder. But how do we make the Fourth of July sacred? We do it through creating rituals.

There are many different ways one could “ritualize” July 4th. A few ideas include: singing some patriotic songs with friends or family; flying an American flag outside your house; reading the Declaration of Independence; reading about or studying some aspect of the American Revolution; giving some extra tzedakah to an important American cause; doing some volunteer work to make this “a more perfect union”; writing a blessing or prayer to be recited on July 4th; or reciting the “Prayer for our Country” found in our siddurim.

I’m sure you could come up with additional ideas. Try one or two of these this year. If they work, do them again next year; if they do not work, try something different.

Kol Nidre

Dear Beth El Family,

This is the time of year that Beth El asks its entire membership to participate in a special voluntary donation to the synagogue in the spirit of Kol Nidre, known as the Kol Nidre Appeal. Throughout the year, Beth El is available to us, reaches out to us and is present for all of our most meaningful life experiences. Whether you take part in our synagogue’s beautiful services or enjoy Beth El during a B’nai Mitzvah, wedding, Brit Milah or a baby naming, it is comforting to know that Beth El will always be here for us.

Your Kol Nidre donation is more important now than ever before. As Beth El positions itself for the future, your donation allows Beth El to continue to provide for us all that we expect and so much more. As Rabbi Krupnick states, “Ask not what your synagogue can do for you, ask what you can do for your synagogue”.

Please consider this appeal and continue to be generous as you have in the past. As in previous years, all of our members who participate in the Kol Nidre Appeal will be recognized in the Beth El News. Thank you.

The Meaning of the Fourth of July

You may be wondering, “what’s Jewish about celebrating July 4th?” I believe that one of the wisest elements of Judaism is its emphasis on ritual to create meaning for us in our lives. To me, there is nothing more Jewish than using Jewish modes and techniques to create meaning for ourselves in a secular, civic, American context. Notice I have not told you what July 4th is “about.” Rather, each of us must create meaning for our own selves, meaning that is particular to ourselves. I will be working on this myself this year, and I look forward to hearing from you about your Fourth of July rituals.

Enjoy the fireworks, and may you have a joyous - and meaningful - Fourth of July!

HELP WANTED

SUBSTITUTE GREETERS:

SHORT HOURS  •  NO PAY
LOTS OF SATISFACTION  •  TRAINING PROVIDED

Each Shabbat morning a congregant stands at the Shabbat entrance to our building to welcome people as they arrive. These arrivals may be old friends, they may be attending a simcha or they may be "synagogue shopping."

The Greeter's responsibility is to welcome people cordially, wish them a "Shabbat Shalom" (if appropriate), direct them to the sanctuary, the coat room, etc., or offer other assistance as needed. She/he will be stationed at the entrance from 9:15am until 10:35am. At that time the greeter may join the rest of the congregation (if they wish).

A Beth El Board member is usually assigned for a specific Shabbat, but we often need substitutes. For further information or to volunteer, you may email or phone Mort Kanovsky at Kanovsky@juno.com or 856.424.9372.

Spring clean your draws of your unused, “collectable” Kippas.

Thank you.

New Coordinator of Parent and Child Classes at Beth El

It is with great excitement that I announce the appointment of Caryn Weiss as coordinator of our Parent and Child classes. Caryn has designed and organized parent and child programs for over 10 years and brings an expertise that few can equal.

Plans for the fall include a ONE-derful Ones class for ages 11-16 months, Ready to Rock for children 17-22 months and Turning Two with You for students 22 months +.

For information about the fall classes call 675-1166 and ask for Roselee or Caryn.

Kindergarten Graduation a Fabulous Celebration

On June 16 the full day Kindergarten Class of the ECC presented a cantata as part of their graduation ceremony. Susan Giglio, Elana Doar and Zohar Aviv did a wonderful job of teaching the children all year and in preparing them for this special night. The math, reading, writing and social skills that they learned have prepared them exceptionally well for first grade in whatever school they attend.

Kindergarten Enrichment host Authors’ Night

The Kindergarten Enrichment class showed off their reading and writing abilities when they held an Authors’ Night on June 14th. Each child wrote his or her own book and shared it with the parents in attendance. A Cookie and Cream treat followed. Morah Caryn Weiss and her assistant Morah Karen Chast, were justifiably proud of the children’s accomplishments.

Happy Faces from our Mommy & Me Class
What a year it’s been!

2010-2011 was quite a year for the Beth El Youth Groups. From kindergarteners up through our teens, everyone ate, prayed, played and got to know each other a bit better than ever before. From joint Kadima and USY programs to Philadelphia and combined Machar and Chaverim events with the DJE, our Youth Department has been kickin it up!

This year Beth El’s USY Chapter has 3 students elected to regional board, won the Hagesher region’s Chapter of Excellence Award, brought in nearly $4000 at its annual Turkey Trot dance and helped out at 3 separate Synagogue Arm events.

Our Kadima program has seen some great program ideas come out of our newest advisor Avi Schwartz. From PS3 tournaments to paintball, the offerings for our 6th and 7th graders are excellent!

Chaverim (4th and 5th) and Machar (K-3) have been busting at the seams, some times with nearly 30 kids attending their events. Participants have celebrated holidays, watched movies and had tons of fun!

If you are interested in learning more about the Beth El Youth Groups, please don’t hesitate to give me a call! Program planning for the 2011-2012 year is already well underway and it promises nothing but a great time for all of the youth at Beth El!

Don’t forget MITZVAH CAMP 2011 will run yet again this coming August 22-26. Information can be found in the enclosed brochure, but don’t hesitate to be in touch with any questions!

Have a great summer!
